URL: http://cxc.harvard.edu/ciao3.4/dictionary/slang.html
Last modified: 15 December 2008

S-Lang

A run-time compile ("4GL") language written by John Davis (MIT). Some people find Slang comparable with the IDL language with its scripting and vector handling capabilities. S-Lang is bundled with most major Linux distributions, and has been ported to most major operating systems.

For more information on S-Lang:

- S-Lang as the CIAO Scripting Language
- S-Lang in CIAO webpages
- S-Lang ahelp page
- S-Lang WWW site
- Guide to the S-Lang Language

The Chandra X-Ray Center (CXC) is operated for NASA by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.
60 Garden Street, Cambridge, MA 02138 USA.
Smithsonian Institution, Copyright © 1998-2008. All rights reserved.

URL: http://cxc.harvard.edu/ciao3.4/dictionary/slang.html
Last modified: 15 December 2008